Just for Fun!

Here are a few events happening locally that might beat the winter blues! (these events are not put on or in any way a part of the Panther Pride Club or Climax-Scotts Elementary- they are only included for your information and possible enjoyment)

Jan 22-April 10, 2011 Kalamazoo Valley Museum (FREE; donations accepted) an exhibit titled: Michigan Eats: Regional Culture through Food. (Describes the diverse food traditions found throughout our state)

The Kalamazoo Valley Museum also has a new lineup of planetarium programs beginning January 9th. ($3 per person with advance purchase required at the museum or over the phone. Visit their website at <http://kvm.kvcc.edu/>)

-The All Ages program is "In My Backyard" and explores changing weather with the seasons, the night sky and planets of our solar system.

Kalamazoo Nature Center has a lot of winter activities planned that are great for families(see their website at <http://www.naturecenter.org> for a list of fees.).

-Jan 16; 2-3pm Winter Tracking- outdoor walk for all ages to use prints and patterns to find out which animals have been active in the woods.(fees charged)

This Winter Word Search includes words that are going forward and diagonally.
